

THE PULLMAN
— AT GLENLO ABBEY —

The Pullman Restaurant at Glenlo Abbey Hotel & Estate offers a truly unique dining experience with two carriages, including Leona from 1927, part of the original Orient Express. Leona travelled the Orient Express route, covering destinations like Istanbul, Monte Carlo-Nice, and St. Petersburg. It was also part of the Brighton Belle, a route frequented by famous personalities like Charlie Chaplin.

In 1965, Leona played a significant role in Winston Churchill's funeral cortege, transporting his remains to St. Martins Church. Later, it featured in the 1974 film adaptation of Agatha Christie's 'Murder on the Orient Express.' After serving as a restaurant in Essex, Leona, along with the 1954 carriage Linda, became part of the Pullman Restaurant, opening in May 1998.

Located just 300 meters from the old Galway-Clifden railway line, the Pullman Restaurant at Glenlo Abbey offers stunning views of Lough Corrib and the Estate. The dining experience is unique, with personalized service, a carefully curated wine list, and locally sourced food prepared by a dedicated kitchen team.
